

Introducing Barkomatic

Your Go-To Guide for Parental Controls

Keeping kids safe on their household devices hasn't always been easy. Parents have had to dig through junk drawers and scour the web for parental controls instructions, which can be frustrating and time-consuming. With the Barkomatic, parents now have one convenient link for accessing instructions and suggestions for parental controls.

No more googling "How to restrict Netflix" or tracking down flimsy instruction manuals. The Barkomatic will send you an email with a personalized link for only the information you need, whenever you want to access it!

Here's How It Works

Tell Barkomatic what your child uses

Launch the Barkomatic and complete the quiz to tell us what your child uses, including apps, games, internet providers, smart home devices, and more.

Barkomatic analyzes your selections

The Barkomatic will analyze your selections and pull information, instructions, and guidance from across the web. If it connects to the internet, we can help you figure out how to secure it.

Receive your free, personalized guide

When it's done, the Barkomatic will email you the link for your customized results. Just click and begin setting controls for everything your family needs secured. Save the results, print them out, or share them with family!
